Immigration

James Clappison: To ask the Secretary of State for the Home Department how many people have immigrated to the UK who were not UK citizens or citizens of another EU member state in (a) each year since 2009 and (b) each of the last eight quarters for which figures are available. [63715]

Reply from Nick Hurd: The information requested falls within the responsibility of the UK Statistics Authority. I have asked the authority to reply.

Letter from Stephen Penneck, dated July 2011:

As Director General for the Office for National Statistics, I have been asked to reply to your Parliamentary Question asking how many people have immigrated to the UK who were not UK citizens or citizens of another EU member state in (a) Each year since 2009; and (b) Each of the last eight quarters for which figures are available (63715).

The number of non EU citizens who immigrated long term to the UK in 2009 is estimated to be 303,000. Provisional estimates for 2010 will be published on 25 August 2011.

The attached table shows estimates of long-term migration by non-EU citizens for each quarter from Dec 08 to Sept 10. These data are based upon the International Passenger Survey. These estimates are of numbers of moves each year rather than numbers of people. For instance, an individual could enter in one year, leave just over a year later and then enter again a year after that. They would appear three times in this table. Short-term migrants (i.e. those entering or leaving the UK for less than twelve months) are not included in the long-term migration estimates.

Long-term international migration estimates from International Passenger Survey: immigration of non EU citizens to the UK 2008 q4 to 2010 q3, United Kingdom

thousand
	Estimate	SE (%)
2008 Q4	55	8
2009 Q1	48	8
2009 Q2	46	8
2009 Q3	124	5
2009 Q4	74	6
2010 Q1 ⁽¹⁾	65	5

Asylum: Deportation

Julie Elliott: To ask the Secretary of State for the Home Department pursuant to the answer of 28 June 2011, Official Report, column 676W, on asylum: deportation, what the ages were of those people who were removed; how many were part of a family unit; and how many were removed under force. [63679]

Reply from Damian Green: Of the 14 removals previously identified the ages of these individuals at time of removal were five, 21, 27, 29, 31, 31, 32, 32, 34, 36, 40, 43, 46, 48.

Two of the above individuals are part of the same family unit i.e. a parent and child under 16, who chose to return voluntarily.

Eight of the above individuals were enforced removals from the United Kingdom.

Prosecutions: Human Trafficking

Peter Bone: To ask the Attorney-General how many prosecutions were brought by the Crown Prosecution Service for human trafficking in the last year for which figures are available; and how many such cases resulted in a conviction. [63714]

Reply from the Solicitor-General: The Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) records show that in the last year 96 prosecutions have been brought on charges under sections 57, 58 and 59 of the Sexual Offences Act 2003, alleging trafficking for the purposes of sexual exploitation, and 20 prosecutions under section 4 of the Asylum and Immigration (Treatment of Claimants) Act 2004, alleging trafficking for other exploitative purposes. The CPS records indicate the volume of offences, not defendants, prosecuted by the CPS under each Act. This data is not held by defendant or by outcome; therefore we are unable to provide information on how many of these prosecutions resulted in a conviction.

Holyrood Parliamentary Questions

Justice

Alison McInnes (North East Scotland) (Scottish Liberal Democrats): To ask the Scottish Executive what progress has been made on developing proposals for further research into the religious context of religiously aggravated offences, as committed to following the Cabinet meeting of 15 March 2011. (S4W-420)

Reply from Roseanna Cunningham: The Scottish Government is reviewing the existing analysis on religiously aggravated offences (under Section 74 of the Criminal Justice (Scotland) Act 2003), and what additional information could usefully be captured in future analyses. Progress is being made and this work will be completed by the end of 2011.

Crown Office

James Kelly (Rutherglen) (Scottish Labour): To ask the Scottish Executive how many cases were reported to the Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Service with a religious aggravation as set out in the Criminal Justice (Scotland) Act 2003 in (a) 2003-04, (b) 2004-05, (c) 2005-06, (d) 2006-07, (e) 2007-08, (f) 2008-09, (g) 2009-10 and (h) 2010-11, broken down by police force area. (S4W-378)

Reply from Frank Mulholland: The following table shows the number of charges reported to procurators fiscal which included a Religious Aggravation element.

Charges: Religious Aggravation Included Police Force Area	2003 - 04	2004 - 05	2005 - 06	2006 - 07	2007 - 08	2008 - 09	2009 - 10	2010 - 11
Central	6	12	23	21	46	25	29	42
Dumfries & Galloway	1	4	3	15	12	14	10	5
Fife	3	5	7	11	7	18	4	9
Grampian	5	4	4	6	6	19	9	10
Lothian & Borders	14	24	25	51	36	39	38	66
Northern	-	4	1	10	9	19	6	5
Strathclyde	219	416	626	569	485	522	521	548
Tayside	23	10	15	13	8	11	15	8
Total	271	479	704	696	609	667	632	693

Notes: The information in this table has been extracted from the Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Service's case management database. The database is a live, operational database used to manage the processing of reports submitted to procurators fiscal by the police and other reporting agencies. If a Procurator Fiscal amends the aggravation in a charge submitted by a reporting agency the database will record details only of the amended charge.

The database is charge-based. The figures quoted therefore relate to the number of charges rather than the number of individuals charged or the number of incidents that gave rise to such charges.

Westminster Parliamentary Questions

Anti-Semitism

David Amess: To ask the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government pursuant to the answer of 21 June 2011, Official Report, column 156W, on anti-Semitism, for what reasons the UK Government uses the Macpherson definition of a racist incident; when the decision was taken to use this definition; who took the decision; whether representatives of the Jewish community were consulted on the definition to be used; and if he will make a statement. [63112]

Andrew Stunell: Sir William Macpherson's definition of a racist incident was developed during the Inquiry into the murder of Stephen Lawrence, which reported in 1999. The Secretary of State for the Home Department's Action Plan in that same year accepted the definition.

Racism and Religious Hatred Westminster Parliamentary Questions (continued)

A cross Government hate crime programme was established by Mr Justice Fulford following on from the Macpherson report. During 2007 the programme established a universal definition of hate crime adopted by all criminal justice agencies and Government Departments. This common definition built on the principles of the Macpherson definition and was developed with the oversight of the standing Independent Advisory Group, which includes representation from Jewish Community groups.

The full definition of 'Monitored Hate Crime' can be viewed on the police owned website True Vision at: http://www.report-it.org.uk/hate_crime_data1

David Amess: To ask the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government pursuant to the answer of 21 June 2011, Official Report, column 156W, on anti-Semitism, which agencies use the working definition of anti-Semitism adopted by the EU Agency for Fundamental Rights; and if he will make a statement. [R] [63113]

Andrew Stunell: We do not keep central records on which agencies use the working definition. Criminal justice agencies adopted the common definition of 'Monitored Hate Crime' in 2007 and the Association of Chief Police Officers intend to include the working definition in their Hate Crime Manual.

The full definition of 'Monitored Hate Crime' can be viewed on the police owned website, True Vision, at: http://www.report-it.org.uk/hate_crime_data1

Parliamentary Questions

Forced Marriage Unit

Fiona Mactaggart: To ask the Secretary of State for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs how many cases have been dealt with by the Forced Marriage Unit in (a) 2010 and (b) the last 12 months. [63345]

Reply from Jeremy Browne: The information is as follows:

(a) In 2010, the Forced Marriage Unit (FMU) gave advice or support in 1,735 cases involving a possible forced marriage. Of that number, there were 469 cases where the FMU provided active assistance.

(b) From January to June 2011, the FMU gave advice or support in 738 cases involving a possible forced marriage. Of that number, there have been 126 cases where the FMU provided active assistance.

<http://www.publications.parliament.uk/pa/cm201011/cmhansrd/cm110705/text/110705w0001.htm#11070586000006>

Travellers: Caravan Sites

Caroline Lucas: To ask the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government if he will make it his policy to (a) ensure regional cooperation between local authorities in planning for Gypsy and Traveller caravan sites and (b) reinstate the obligation on local authorities to provide such sites. [62755]

Reply from Robert Neill: We are introducing a duty to co-operate through the Localism Bill to ensure that local authorities continue to work together after regional strategies are abolished. This will require local planning authorities, county councils and other public bodies to engage constructively, actively and on an ongoing basis in the planning process.

The majority of new Traveller sites are small private ones provided by Travellers themselves. This meets community aspirations on tenure and their small size can aid integration with the settled community. Delivery of such sites is most appropriately managed through planning system. The Government published their proposed new planning policy for Traveller sites for consultation on 13 April. Members are welcome to submit their views.
